

I am a proud American incredibly opposed to the FCCs proposed rollback of net neutrality protections.

The business of America is Americans. Our internet, our right to view what we choose at a standard bandwidth far above the reach of private businesses and corporations that have no regard for the welfare of my countrymen and our technological resources and ability to express our god given American entrepreneurial spirit.

Business has no place anywhere near my country's free expression of ideas and small business start ups and opportunities for all.

Stand down. Abandon these shameful rollbacks.
